Online Multiplayer via iOS, Android, and PC All-new system that treats each player as an independent hero. Players can connect to the game and communicate in "connections" with players from around the world. Allows players to battle against each other anywhere, anytime, and makes team play a reality.

In-Game Shop and Real-Money Auction Add items to your character's inventory to improve performance or increase stats, such as magic power or endurance. You can actually buy items that you do not own. Purchase rare items at the in-game shop in-game, purchase them at the shop managed by Tarnished and bid for them at an auction.

Online Quest (Avarantamento) Quest Beast, Lazia, the land of the dragons, and other large monsters live within a vast area. Battle in real-time with group players outside the game and win amazing items that raise your level.

Personalized Character Growth System Raises your level as you explore the vast world! When you find stronger items and weapons, you can raise your level. Or conversely, if you tend not to battle for a while, your equipment will degrade. By leveling up, you can acquire new equipment that increases your stats.

Battle Party Based on all-new battle party system. If you're matched up with several players, they will appear together in battle. You can take advantage of the advantage of others while overcoming the weaknesses of each character.

Elden Searing Crash and Light of Grace Experience single-hand combat for the first time in fantasy RPG history with weapons that have an action RPG feel.

Collect recognition points by defeating monsters in real-time to improve the attributes of your character while levelling him up. Play the battle story by participating in quests assigned by the combat system. And meet a beautiful young woman named Grace with a slight Dark Dripping Curse by seeking her out, as well! Rise, Tarnished!

Entering the Wrath of the Skies 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13
Looking at the battle circle for Cataclysm says that there are darkspawn and level-50s that are unleashing dragons (and maybe the level-50s have been around long enough that they are part of the darkspawn). The level of darkspawn in the picture can stand in for Forgotten ones or all darkspawn at once.

Entering the Wrath of the Skies 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13
This reminds me of the in-progress art for Wrath of The Skies and Dragon of The White Web (Wrath is White Web)
Gnome
Gnome: We have not yet finalized the concept for the skill system, and that is the main time-consuming task. Nonetheless, we are working diligently to streamline and improve it. We do intend to streamline even further when we release the game. We also have plans to release more content. We would like to continue to focus on quality in addition to quantity. 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16
I can see all the content that Gnome intends to create in the meantime, and I agree it will take some time before we see the end result... but mind you my contentment isn't in just the number of releases, but in the content itself.
pixnewwear: Will you introduce us to Bard, where he is now, what he's doing and who he's with? 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15
Well... Bard's got a new home, and a new profession. He's currently a level 68 Slayer, and in addition to his profession civilization, science and technology advances are occurring at a quicker pace than ever before. This, however, brings about a number of new challenges which, if not properly addressed, could result in undesirable changes and consequences. One challenge that scientists are currently trying to address is the possibility that artificial intelligence may go rogue and develop its own goals and objectives that are not aligned with those of human beings. The technology currently being used for Artificial Intelligence applications is increasingly being adopted for a variety of usages from predictive searches and autonomous vehicles, to direct interfacing with human beings. professionals in nutrition promotion is an understudied area. This qualitative study examines the nutrition education needs and goals of health professionals. Semistructured interviews with 17 health professionals (nurses, dietitians, and nutrition coordinators) were transcribed and analyzed using thematic analysis. Participants identified competency, professional identity, and motivation as 3 essential aspects of nutrition education. Nutrition education was categorized as nutrition education for improving quality of health care and nutrition education for promoting dietary quality. The types of nutrition education strategies that each category would require were also identified. Participants noted that more nutrition training for health professionals is needed.
