The Land of Elden is in turmoil. The Great War, which lasted for eons, has resulted in the emergence of many mysterious monsters. Legend has it that one who can conquer these monsters and defend the Land of Elden will become the next Elden Lord, who would restore its true power and protect its people, and thus bring peace to the world. To that end, powerful warriors from all the continent's nations have converged on the Elden Village. Establishing a stalemate between the monsters and these warriors, the villagers have begun a campaign to fortify themselves. However, the stalemate has not been easy.
