Please log in to vote. I'll try to keep it brief, but anyways... I got this achievement on a little challenge called Venomous Frigates where you have to out-shoot a huge collection of ships (which is kind of an incredibly stupid suggestion to make on that side). Anyway, I went to Silversian Reef and combined it with Santa Ponsonby (a keeper ship I constructed). It used Freighter + Shotstick + Mariner + Missile Boat + Carrier. I'll list the ships in order from left to right. Mariner: Deals the most damage (Ship HPs) of any ship. Freighter: Has superior ammo, so you can keep a good supply. Shotstick: Improves your speed (up to 21% faster), and increases your ammo. Convoy: Amuses the crowd, and causes the enemy ships to flee. Carrier: Just keeps yourself well supplied in ammunition. So combine them all and suddenly you're shooting faster than you ever have before, and with better stuff. Plus, the enemies are instantly fleeing, which makes "Marine shots" much easier. I don't know if it's a glitch or a design flaw... but it might be too easy? At any rate, these ships are bound to destroy the majority of your enemies (with Mariner), and I'm sure that 'Marine shots' can destroy a lot more than those of your enemies. Now the shotstick gives really good ammo, and interestingly enough has the highest DPS among this group. The Shotstick allows you to make better use of the convoy. And the convoy has some really great uses. For example, it increases the falloff of your shots, which gives you more of an advantage. It also gives you ammo from ammo stacks, and surprisingly, doesn't offer lower rate ammo. It also increases your rate of fire because... well... the convoys were made to be fired in bursts (needless to say, I've never done it before). I personally also have extra ammo to spare. Of course, I don't usually go full-out and overkill myself (since I wouldn't believe people would take it that seriously),
