What's so damn special about Elden Ring?

The reason why you should crave for end of the game because game is not end.

Fantasy action RPG where you will be surrounded by the vast beautiful open countryside.

Lions and ogres will become your loved enemies. Will you find new pastures of happiness and sadness?

Elden Ring is a game that makes you feel like you're an indispensable fairy.

Prepare for a gripping journey even if you've never played an RPG. I still had to start this game a 3 year ago since this game has been in a closed beta. A full release finally came last year. Thus, Elden Ring has been far from the mainstream audience.

On top of that, many might expect this game to be light-hearted from this game's title. Actually, this game is rather dark. It's a AAA action RPG with a gorgeous world, and you will be drawn back and forth between a dangerous land and a good place within seconds.

You will come to the empire of the Void, where you will need to make good choices in order to keep moving on.

Elden Ring focuses on story. And the story is being explained to you via well-made dialogues.

To top it off, the story of the world isn't dependent on the players' actions. So don't hesitate to just walk around or do nothing. The effects of your actions in the world will all be included into your story.

Again, this is a fantasy RPG designed for RPG fans. But be prepared to be wowed by a fast-paced, and dynamic battle.

If you are wondering what your character's personality is, then come to realize that your character has no personality. All the events in the game are about you as a character.

Every time you start a new
